Profile

My name is Mikko Anttila, I am a 20 year old man.

Ever since I was young I've had interest in game development, and at the age of 14 I released my first game project into a site called Game Jolt.

Now I am studying game programming at South-Eastern Finland University of Applied Sciences, XAMK, with the same drive as before and a continuous interest in getting better.

Studies

(2019-2022) At Business College Helsinki, I completed an information and communication technology double study course during which I learned C#, C++, Javascript and SQL programming, along with skills related to the Unity game engine and graphics design.

(2023-)At South-Eastern Finland University of Applied Sciences, I've been learning more about C# and C++ programming, 3D graphic design, along with further training in both Unity and Unreal game engines

Work Experience

(2021-2022) I completed a work training course lasting four months at Big Ear Games studio where I mostly did graphics design, animation and testing, although I did also create a prototype for a game project using Unity.

(2022-2023) I worked a civil service job at Lyhty RY media workshop in which I helped customers in various different duties involving media technology such as live streaming and radio production. Besides those duties I also cleaned and prepared food in the kitchen.

Language Skills

My native tongue is Finnish, but I've used English both during work and free time which allows me to speak it without any issue.
